

RECOMMENDANCE Your Humor Style: Clever + Relatable

You laugh at the truth—especially when it's delivered with perfect timing and a raised eyebrow.

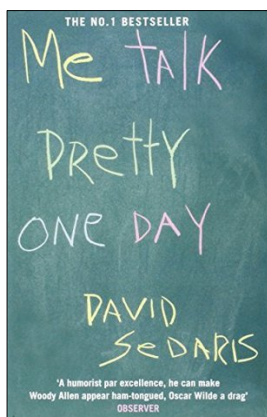

You're drawn to humor that highlights everyday life: awkward moments, social quirks, and quiet chaos. But you appreciate when that realism is lifted by smart writing, crisp timing, and intellectual flair. You want your comedy grounded—but not basic. Insightful—but not cold. Basically? You love to laugh at life, and at yourself.

Your Recommended Reads

1. Where'd You Go, Bernadette by Maria Semple

A sharply funny take on motherhood, social pressure, and quiet rebellion—told through emails, reports, and letters. Smart, humane, and biting in all the right places.

2. Me Talk Pretty One Day by David Sedaris

A modern classic of comic memoir. Sedaris dissects the absurdity of family, language learning, and American expat life with deadpan charm and self-aware wit.

3. Less by Andrew Sean Greer

A neurotic writer flees his ex's wedding by saying yes to every literary invitation he receives around the globe. Gently satirical, quietly poignant, and consistently clever.

Core Traits:

- Relatability: Humor drawn from everyday life and social dynamics
- Cleverness: Verbal wit, irony, and observational insight

Look For:

- Smart, self-aware narrators
- Social satire grounded in realism
- Writers who capture awkwardness without cruelty

Probably Not for You

Avoid: A Confederacy of Dunces by John Kennedy Toole

While revered in some circles, its over-the-top absurdity and larger-than-life protagonist may feel too chaotic or cartoonish if you prefer grounded, recognizable characters.

If This Is You, You Might Say:

"I love it when a book makes me laugh because I've been there."

A Note on Culture

Humor doesn't exist in a vacuum – it's shaped by the places we've lived, the languages we speak, and the cultures we carry with us. Uncoverize's humor styles aim to describe how people laugh, but not always why. So while this guide matches your humor style, you might find the best fit in books that come from your own cultural background – or in stories that speak to your specific sensibilities. Think of this as a starting point, not a prescription.

In partnership with Recommendance, a Bay Area startup, Books & More is exploring this fun new way to match readers with books. Let us know what you think! hello@recommendance.com